7100

USB-C Tactical Flashlight

Delivering over 700 lumens of peak light output and 10.75 hours of maximum run time, the Gen 2 7100 Tactical Flashlight combines high performance with a compact, 5-inch design. Updated USB-C charging provides a more convenient way to recharge, while compatibility with a single disposable AA battery provides an alternative power source when recharging isn't available. Selectable High, Medium, Low, and Strobe modes offer flexibility across applications, while full-time battery level indication keeps remaining power visible. Built for dependable performance in the field, the 7100 features an IPX8 submersible rating and removable pocket clip for convenient carry.
